Summer Updates From CDR

July 2021

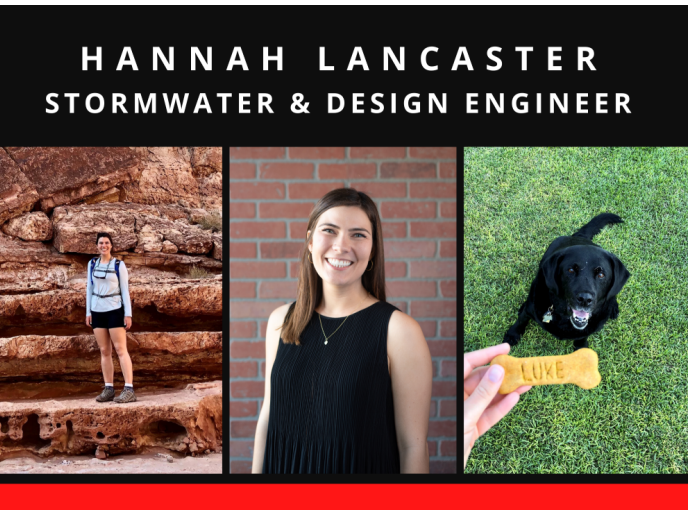

Hello,

Have you met Hannah Lancaster? In her four years with CDR, Hannah has become our in-house stormwater expert. Read her spotlight article below and find out what makes her special skill set so valuable to the success of CDR and our clients.

Speaking of stormwater, read below to learn about the different types of stormwater systems, and how we help our clients lower both the costs of construction and ongoing maintenance.

Regards,

Aaron M. Albertson, P.E., SCDP

Meet Hannah Lancaster

When she isn't planning stormwater management strategies, Hannah enjoys outdoor adventures, is an avid baker, and volunteers her time with her church youth group. Read more

Stormwater Design

CDR's proprietary design methodology for stormwater management systems and expertise with the complex permitting process saves clients time and money both during and after construction. Read more

Catalina Island

Team CDR took a day trip to Catalina Island aboard a small private plane piloted by Captain Matt "Maverick" Menlove of United Contractors. Read more
